This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have good appetite, relish every thing I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. V. S. A. NOTES

Thursday afternoon the first of a series of class basketball games was played on the outdoor court. The seniors "brought home the bacon," to the tune of 23 to 3, over the juniors.

Saturday afternoon Dr. Hillegas, state commissioner of education, Professor Works of the extension department of Cornell university, and Prof. H. H. Gibson of the Iowa State Agricultural college were visitors here.

The Conservation Supper.

Anyone who may have been skeptical as to the interest our local citizens had in food conservation were soon transformed into optimists when they saw the gathering of over 225 people who were present at the conservation supper Monday night. This supper was the culmination of the plans of the Randolph Center branch of the American Red Cross society, under the leadership of their president, Mrs. G. A. Meigs. The school diningroom was closed at the supper hour and the good people of Randolph Center and vicinity planned to have their supper at Agricultural hall at 7:30 o'clock instead of at their homes.

Agricultural hall had been very appropriately decorated with flags and bunting by the Aggie boys during the afternoon. Here the tables were set and all was in readiness, thanks to Professor Meigs' help in acting for the Red Cross ladies as director of the supper. Rev. G. S. Smith of the Randolph Center M. E. church said grace at the opening of the supper. Dr. G. L. Green had charge of the program after the dishes had been cleared away. The V. S. A. orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner" with much spirit and the hall rang with the voices of all present as they sang the good old song. The male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Ball, Lamson, Smithers and Galano, rendered two selections and received a hearty round of applause.

Miss Dutton, assistant county agent for Orange county, next addressed the meeting. She explained the true meaning of conservation—that it did not mean that we must starve or even deny ourselves unduly, at least at this time, but that it meant that we do away with waste and nonessentials and, in a word, give up foods which are really luxuries with us but which are necessary for the welfare and the very life of our allies and our own boys across the water. Miss Dutton also explained just what we had had for supper and offered to give recipes to any ladies present who would care for them.

Mrs. Edson then gave a piano solo of a patriotic nature which stirred the good American blood of everyone present. Rev. G. E. Goodlife, of the Randolph Center Congregational church, sang two sweet old songs which made all present think of our blessings here in the great land and of our dear ones "over there." At this time the male quartet again earned abundant applause.

L. B. Johnson of the state board of education and editor of the Randolph Herald and News was the next speaker. He spoke of the seriousness of this great war in which we are engaged and convinced all his hearers that we must put forth our every energy, no matter what the cost, if we would save our nation from her enemies and make democracy safe and sure for all coming generations. This was a note which cannot be struck too hard and Mr. Johnson's message was a great contribution to the lasting success of the purpose for which the supper was held. Mr. Johnson's address was followed by two more piano selections from Mrs. Edson. K. T. Allan of the agricultural school then gave a singing and whistling selection. This was followed by another selection by the quartet.

Father M. S. O'Donnell of the Catholic church of Randolph made the next address. His message was that while we could not emphasize too much the seriousness of the situation in which we find ourselves, yet we will never let Old Glory, which has "never yet kissed the dust or known defeat," be anywhere but floating proudly over a world of peace and liberty. It was a splendid appeal for patriotism. Said Father O'Donnell, "We will never stop until the Kaiser's scalp is taken—and may it be an American who does the job." Would that Kaiser Bill had been there to hear and to see and to tremble!

Principal Green then made an appeal for the local branch of the Red Cross, urging all, both men and women, to do all they could, if even at inconvenience to themselves. He also announced the effort that the Y. M. C. A. is making to raise funds for work among the soldiers abroad. The formal part of the program closed with the singing of "America."

After the tables were removed several prizes and dances were held, the V. S. A. orchestra supplying the music.

Was it a success? Ask the man who was there!

Regarding wood, the committee finds some producers charging as high as $10 a cord for dry wood, with many variations from that price down as low as $6.50 for green wood. The committee suggests a cash price of $7 a cord for green fire wood of good quality when delivered on sleds in stove lengths.

To Stop a Persistent, Hacking Cough

The best remedy is one you can easily make at home. Cheap but very effective.

Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hacking or bronchial cough year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly.

Get from any druggist "24 ounces of Pinex" (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end.

It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately.

A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "24 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation, The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
